

COPYRIGHT NOTICE

Rundle Law Corporation is, unless otherwise stated, the owner, licensee or acceptable user of all rights in this website and its contents, databases and services. The materials contained in this website are protected by the copyright and trademark laws and other laws of the United States, the United Kingdom and other countries. No user of this website has any right, title, or interest in such contents, databases or services not previously expressly granted in writing to such user by Rundle Law Corporation or by its licensor.

No materials from this website may be published, uploaded, downloaded, transmitted, posted, copied, reproduced, distributed or republished except (a) with Rundle Law Corporation's express written permission, (b) in accordance with a license granted by the Rundle Law Corporation, (c) in accordance with a contract entered into with Rundle Law Corporation, or (d) as permitted by applicable law. However, you may view, print or download one copy of the materials on any single computer for your personal, non-commercial use only, but only if:

- (i) all proprietary notices, including copyright, trademark and other intellectual property notices, are kept intact;
- (ii) the materials are not modified;
- (iii) the materials, absent the Rundle Law Corporation's express written permission, are not used in a manner that suggests an association with any of our services; and
- (iv) the materials are not incorporated in any other work or publication.

Notwithstanding the foregoing,

- (i) any materials available on this website are subject to any additional or narrower restrictions stated in such materials or by the owners thereof;
- (ii) more than one copy of brochures, announcements, registration forms, client alerts and bulletins, and similar materials may be printed or downloaded as may be necessary and reasonable under the circumstances;
- (iii) you may send copies of the materials to individual third parties for their personal information, but only if you acknowledge this website as the source of the material and you inform the third party that the terms of this Notice apply;
- (iv) no part of this website may be distributed or recopied for any commercial purpose or for a fee.

Rundle Law Corporation reserves the right at any time at its discretion to withdraw or modify the permissions set out above.
